How to Sign Up for Activities

On Monday morning one of the Riding staff will stand up and read off the riding schedule for the week. You will ride during the same activity periods all week long. If you ever forget when you ride or who your instructor is it is always posted on the bulletin board on the porch. If you don't plan on riding when at camp then don't worry about this part. During all the hours you don't have riding you are responsible for picking and signing up for your activities. Every day at breakfast and lunch the staff will stand up and announce what they are doing for the morning or afternoon. After breakfast and chores you should go to the bulletin board and pick which activities you want to do while not riding. Each period (1,2,3 and 4) is split into an A and B block, which are 45 minutes each. Some activities like riding and vaulting need to be done for the entire period, while other activities like basketball or small animals might only be offered in the A or B block. During the day you are allowed to take one 45 minute block of free period, just make sure to sign up for this on the bulletin board. There are always staff waiting to help you sign up and answer any questions you have.
